

Arael

SPIRITUAL BEINGS on a HUMAN JOURNEY

SPIRITUAL BEINGS on a HUMAN JOURNEY

◆
Quand tu chantes, tu revis
C'est ta lumière qui s'amplifie
Fixe-la sans cesse
Car le vent souffle ta jeunesse
Ouvre ton ciel
Respire des amours de feu
Déploie tes ailes
Car tu es un être lumineux..."
◆

Anael

SPIRITUAL BEINGS on a HUMAN JOURNEY

At no time in history has mankind been so collectively aware of our spiritual destinies. Never before has the need for meaning in our lives been so paramount. Our world is changing, and as it cleanses itself of the filth, a new dawn is arising. A dawn which will see humanity foster new hope for world peace, new promise for the extinction of poverty and famine. But with an equally fresh set of difficult challenges. The change begins with each of us, within each of us. Its allure is unquestionable. It is not fanatical, nor is it imposed by any organized, external religion. The pursuit of the spiritual realm is in fact quite the opposite. It is an internal reality, sought, learned and lived differently by each. Spirit, defined as "an entity without material reality, separate from matter" is a good synthesis. For this is where the true differences are. When we remove all tangible, worldly elements, we enter into another dimension, one that is driven by energy, consciousness and a love quota which exceeds anything we could ever sustain on earth. Interestingly enough, most assume that we are human beings on a spiritual quest. It is in fact quite the opposite. We are Spiritual Beings on a Human Journey. Spiritual beings trying to remember who we really are, and why we are here.

It is this same journey that continues to inspire Anael's own, intimate expedition, which, with each new incarnation, continues to paint a glorious musical tribute to the many forces of nature that shape our world. This 4th album, appropriately titled, is her latest statement, a thematic collection of songs that begins and ends in the sky and touches down everywhere in between. Uncompromising in its lyrical approach, yet always a balm for both the ear and soul, it is Anael's personal invitation into the celestial heavens. Beginning with the innocent and dreamlike "See Another World," each song is a brief stop on her flight. "Till the Womb Gives Birth" explores the mindset of a steadfast, faithful creator searching for the truth; "Trace" recounts our ability to connect with God by simply mirroring a higher set of ideals. As the journey progresses, we sense a newfound sense of assuredness in Anael's outlook, the script of a soul who is starting to a fresh perspective. But what keeps it all believable is her everpresent deliberation and questioning, well tempered with a healthy dose of humility. Culminating with perhaps her finest studio achievement to date, the 11 minute opus "Sky Sent (Disclosure)" gives us a multi-angle vista of an unprecedented event in human history, the uncovering of hidden technologies that have the power to literally transform life on earth as we know it. www.disclosureproject.org

Through this constant juxtaposition of earthly concerns and human dreams, Anael reveals the multiple resonances of our universe, using the distinct strengths of sound and verb to portray a vast array of vibrations all geared towards heightening the listener's awareness. She leads us into the pure silence of the untouchable, the unexplained, the invisible - all while charming us with her sense of bewilderment at it all. Finally, as she carries us away on her wings to the next destination, we're inclined to believe. These things of which she sings can truly be our reality.

Tel: (514)525-3319 Email: promo@apsismusic.com

www.APSISMUSIC.com

